

I'm against the proposed change in rules because it would give a few companies too much influence on America. We need diversity in the media, not consolidation.